STUDENT CONTRACT
2007–2008

To be successful, a school must have its student body, parents, and faculty working in unison. To help impress upon the students the seriousness of their part of the equation, we submit the following contract:

I have read and discussed the Parent/Student Handbook with my parents and understand the expectations the school has for me.

I will conduct myself at all times in accordance with the Student Pledge.

I understand the school's academic and behavioral requirements and accept them and their consequences as fair, just, and reasonable.

I agree to cooperate to the best of my ability with the administration, faculty, supervisors, volunteers, bus drivers, and all other adults working with our school.

I will do my best to always represent my family, school, and church in a Christian manner which will make them proud whether it be during the school day or at an extracurricular or school sponsored activity.

I realize that school is my job and I will be conscientious in completing my assignments and coming to class prepared with all necessary books and materials.

I will keep my desk and locker clean and respect all school and parish property and grounds, as well as those items which belong to other students.

I appreciate the sacrifices being made for me by my parents, teachers, and parish in affording me the opportunity to receive a Catholic education.

I promise to inform the appropriate adults of any situation that might cause physical, emotional, or moral harm to any member of the student body or faculty.

I pledge to abide by all school rules regarding the handling of computer equipment, programs, and school's internet policy.

I will be respectful of adults, especially those who have jurisdiction over me such as teachers, coaches, bus drivers, chaperones, and all other school support staff.

I realize that my actions, language, and dress have an influence on younger children and I will always try to maintain the highest standards in each area.

As part of my Christian development, I will continue to witness my faith by making service to others an important part of my life, and participate actively in weekly liturgies and prayer services.

STUDENT PLEDGE

Each morning, following our prayers, announcements, and pledge, our student body will be asked to recite the following pledge:

I promise to do my best today to be Christ like and accept responsibility for my words, actions, and deeds. With Jesus as my role model, I will not only refrain from anything that can be hurtful to my classmates, but I will try to do my best to be kind, courteous, friendly, respectful and welcoming with everyone I encounter.
